New Souls

It was mentioned in the previous volume that an advanced race was incarnating. This started taking place in 2006. Many souls who are born from that time onward will be far more intelligent, knowing how to access technology at an early age. However, a devious streak will be within and it'll be noticeable that they are a wily bunch. What is in a parents genetics, passes down thus why they say, "Sons pay for the inequities of their fathers". Generational traits are handed down leading to the acting out of the choices inspired by them. And those brought up in the 70's, 80's, and 90's had a great programming of sinful temptations resulting from television. The new generation has the ability to make positive changes in their advanced consciousness but will the influences in the world around them, point them into that direction? Parents are the key to how they grow, if they strive to records the them in virtue. Many of the souls are born here from the other 3D world of Zeta Reticulum.

Angelic News

The heavens have graciously given us enough foresight to keep us going, as far as what to be aware of in terms of the worldwide disasters. Now it's time to know how they will help. The major Archs, Michael, Raphael, Gabriel, and Uriel will do all that they can as masters of the elements used for global reckoning, to also safeguard individuals and entire families that they remain safe. They can't promise that material things will be safe or not undergo damage throughout all of this... but they will ensure that many still maintaining faith in heaven, will live. Many will see their homes damaged and experience financial pains and say that they had wished that they weren't alive. Saying this out of frustration and struggle, they should remain grateful of this: You will still have your life and your loved ones. As far as material things, even if it seems desperate at the moment, those things can be replaced. Seek comfort with one another, in prayer and at your larger spiritual community if trustworthy. The arch's will also provide escape safely from areas of trial of everyone of belief, if they are steadfast in heeding the warnings and not supposing that warnings will just be false alarms. The heavens are also leaving trails of breadcrumbs for everyone to be informed. Its going to be a trying time but do not feel dismayed. The only way to rebuild is to deconstruct. A city can not be built upon the ruins of another former city. Instead, even the ruins have to be cleared. The ascension is finally coming! The arch's help by trying to merge those who are chosen in this world... to ascend into a higher vibratory state of consciousness, learn how to exist in it, and to Keep in mind that with the oncoming chain of Earthquakes that many places are in danger. California especially. September 7 or 8, there will be another.

Meteorites, and internet trouble will occur in September as well!

understand the way that the mind, heart and soul will operate from being in that new vibration of living. There there's much to understand about this because things will change greatly for those individuals. That is why you have a teacher here, that you can rely on greatly to help walk you through everything. For those that reach it, they will still live in joy and happiness, a perfected state of mind, no more pain or sorrow, as a result of having had this beautiful change take place. No matter what is going on... truthology.teachable.com

However, it is important to know that as the chosen select, will merge into a higher state of consciousness... and a group of lower vibrational souls will move in. There has been a community of souls reincarnating here from the very beginning. And some of them are destined to return home. As they do, there will be room for new souls to begin their life and journey here in the 3-D reality to rebuild it. However, there are groups of very negative spirits who are trying get in instead, and many of them have... through portals having been opened deliberately by scientists that work for many underground projects that are endorsed and supported by the military and other administrations. Especially those associated with the UN. Do not be fooled. Even though it appears that many are against one another in different political powers in other countries, when it comes to seeing worldwide agenda... they do work closely together and help financially support global projects. That is why the United States and the Russian space stations have always worked together. They work together with other things too. Much of what you see is just an illusion in the world today. Also, the angels want to help safeguard many people from having spiritual walkins of a lower vibrational quality. Of course having been otherworldly at some point and having been on the spiritual side of things too, they will have some ability to enhance your psychic powers, but only to a certain limit. It is not worth it to allow them to come into your vessel with you, because they will take over and cause great devastation not only within yourself... but also in your life. The scary thing about this is, that you may not even know that it's happening when it does. You will simply feel like your regular self, but after awhile you will start to experience a lot of agitation and upset. Then you'll start to notice that you're having cravings for things that you've never had cravings for before. "We will protect you if you place your faith and devotion in us", they say.

Other signs....

There will come a time when you will also see that the daytime will appear as night. You also want to be aware that the gravitational force beneath you, is tugging away a little more greatly beneath you. For higher vibrational souls, this will make you feel very lethargic and tired very easily. Everyone is being advised to take off your shoes, and stand in a shady place outside just so that you can ground yourself a little bit better... with the vibration the earth is using... just for that moment in time. This will help you to feel a little better. Earth's vibration has lowered, not heightened. How could it be higher, when so many global disasters are showing signs of distress? Gaia has not grown into higher vibrational state. Instead, the vibration has lowered significantly. Because of that, many people are feeling the effects physically. Even those not in the Ascension process. Awakening is not just expanding your worldly or earthly spiritual knowledge. Awakening is far different. It is very important for people to start learning what the difference is, and to stop believing lies sold by trends. Wake up, and see what's really happening. The earth is having trouble, and all livings including humans... are going to suffer with the earth because they are a part of the earth. The two go hand-in-hand. Oxygen levels are going to drop, weather is going to be disastrous, water is going to be infected, and much of the land is going to go through a lot of changing. Some of it will go underwater, some of it will crumble. Volcanoes will erupt and there will be a need for mankind to come to a realization that change, at a very real level as needed. Not to just talk about it or to promote it... when it's not happening yet. But instead, the masses need to get out there and hold hands together in an attempt to raise the vibration of our planet in love. Its not time to exclude anyone, or allow jealousy, competition or indifference, to get in the way. If people can't come together, then time as you know it will change forever... and so will the planet that you live on. All of this for money too. Why is it that mankind could not realize that the things that they were doing would certainly cause disaster to their world on epic proportions. Why was an insignificant piece of paper that was valueless to begin with, more important than sustaining humanity's life? But even I am hated for the words that I say. And you can hate me all that you want to. Because I'll never stop. Because I am truth, and I am a representative of the living light that still remains. More animals will become limited and extinct. State of emergencies will be called. You know, into the future... even the rivers and lakes will overflow and the land of immoral liberty shall be divided. Marriage within ones own family will be legalized. There will be the death of a leader of the greater new Babylon, and a woman from there too... who became "the diamond in the rough" who will also be in danger. More and more youth will be attracted to pain, sadistic, and projecting a dark sinister role. The world recycles itself as it's meant to. Deadly bugs, insect that cause disease and damages to crops. Avian life forms will fall and the sea creatures will float up to the surface. News of mass illnesses and epidemics. But heaven will hold your hand. We will be the light lighting the way to new heaven and new Earth.

The time is now:

Everyone today is living as if the world will be gone tomorrow. If you have ever heard it asked, "what would you do if you had 24 hours before your town was bombed to pieces", then you will know exactly why the world is in such a state of selfishness and greed. Imagine if your city was told that it would be gone 24 hours from now, what would you be doing? Many people would have very different selfish things to say. I have heard it said that some would have sex with all of the people that they have ever desire does sex with. Some have said that they would just go out and get high, some said they would get drunk. There were others who said that they would rob a bank. There are many people who have wanted to go skydiving, or do something spontaneous and crazy. So people today without realizing it, are going out and trying to fulfill their greatest material wishes, dreams, pleasures and desires. And it's being so greatly promoted to! If you look at television and media today, it is full of ads and commercials that are just throwing your Temptations in your face. Because they want to distract you with the pleasures of the physical world while there is a very deep spiritual matter taking place. If you had 24 hours before your city was gone, many people would want to move to another city of course, which is the obvious answer. But what if you couldn't escape it? Think of all of the riots and fires that would take place from people just panicking and chaos? And that's what's happening with your world. There is so much chaos going on because everyone is in a state of panic. Everybody can feel a deep sense of anxiety, but they don't know exactly what it is. Even atheists know that something is very very wrong in the world today and that there is something coming, unseen but expected. Make your symbolic "24 hours" count. In other words, while these things are taking place, strive to be the better person and reach your ascension. This way you were not affected by them in the ways that others will be negatively. Even though the world is not going to disappear, does it really have to be hit with a huge asteroid that makes mankind extinct, in order for there to be global devastation? No. It exists within every man, the desire to fix fill what is happening today through their own actions and deeds. is through mankind and selfishness, in consideration and greed that these things are happening. And even though we are behind the scenes making it happen on an energetic scale, it would not have been taking place had not mankind manifested it to begin with. If the world were full of good thoughts and good deeds, then blessings will come to earth instead. And the very scary thing about this all is that, the darker forces that have caused mankind to manifest all of this, are being worshiped and praised. The same exact forces that are responsible for rape, murder and many other darker nature deeds... People are submitting to them thinking that it will keep them safe and it won't. For the dark is not loyal to anyone. With everything happening, we need reinforcements. The only way to find them is to seek those of you still good and inspire you. We have your angelic guides and spirit guides trying to lead but many have become dismayed. Let us gain faith once again. Let heaven back into your hearts.

For those of you who are tired and weary of the ways of the world and having to keep up with the struggle, join me in peace, unity and love, even just from your very own individual location. Let us come together... you can find me on Facebook. Look up Truthian Circle group. It's private and full of people like yourself who strive for real change and truth. Please be safe and ready yourselves for the monstrosity of a hurricane which is on its way. Don't forget our words...

Dark Consciousness

Dark Consciousness

It's no easy thing to know that things are taking a serious turn in your world but many make excuses or try to dismiss the prophecies. This is very real and you are not alone. It's just simply not a time to ignore the importance of things. Don't let the dark state of consciousness consume you. Don't let it in, as it's the very same that is responsible for rape, murder, theft, hatred, prejudice, depression, anger, anxiety, and the setbacks that got in your way your entire life. Why would you want something such as that you have any power over you or take away your strength? Even leading in just a little, can lead towards the opening of your spiritual energy to other entities who are responsible for inflicting and influencing those things and others. He will want to get help. Seek spiritual energy removal, balance your spirit body, upgraded if you have to to keep your vibration high. You may have to repeat this once in a while in order to keep yourself maintained. But if you don't maintenance it at all, it will just keep pulling you down. Some symptoms of Dark Consciousness are:

- *Feeling Depressed
- *Sudden Anxiety
- *Suicidal Thoughts
- *Highly Suspicious
- * Not feeling alive
- * Life seems meaningless
- * Lack of Energy
- * Thoughts of giving up
- * Separation and isolation
- * Losing spiritual mindset
- * Converting to the everyday norm
- * Feeling disconnected from spirit
- * Nothing excites you
- * Wanting to cancel plans
- * Feeling disgusted with people
- * Fits of rage
- * Bad luck
- * Neglecting appearance & hygiene
- * Random immoral thoughts
- * Nightmares
- * Seeing black figures or orbs

Don't allow yourself to get consumed. Keep yourself going, stay hopeful. It may cause the question of why should anyone try if it's getting worse? Because you are creating your stairway to heaven as you fight onward. The experience can be what you make it, amidst it all. With Reticulan and inter dimensional souls incarnating and performing walk-ins, it's going to be a hostile world. There will be a lack of conscious self control, consideration for others, concern for others, respect, traditions, family unity, and love. Instead, as the Dark Consciousness slowly consumes everyone many humans won't care about much of anything. When accidents or injuries happen to others, instead of helping... cell phones will be embraced more for social media instead. 30% of humanity will care about the devastation that is and will be taking place but the rest won't. Mankind's greed still takes over the nature around them, knowing that each time that a Forrest is cut down, a new factory goes up, or another road is paved that it is creating the issues there on Earth more. This is why the earth itself is rebelling. As the Lords of the elements, of course we are going to help assist earth and purging itself as needed so that you can cleanse and clear itself of the negativity that has been dumped into it for so long. Mrs. again, the great purging.. But you do have to realize and understand, that while the earth has gone through this a few times, with the resources being as badly damaged as they are, the pollution, and how overpopulated and over built on the earth has become, the damages themselves may not be all repairable. The ozone layer has truly affected the magnetosphere and with the sun sending in strong vibrations of toxic UV and infrared energy, it's not going to process oxygen as it should. The burning of the Amazon is going to hurt everyone as far as the amount of oxygen that is produced. There was already enough CO<sub>2</sub> in the air at a toxic level, but as Alura predicted that it would get worse, now the levels certainly will. With disrupted vibrations, damages, and crying layers of the earth, you must think of it like your own aura. Earth has its layers of energy that lock in, the material World in the middle of its holographic center. With the air being so badly toxic and polluted, it's going to cycle that negative energy into the physical, just like it went through your chakras, into your body. This will be something that cannot be fixed on equivalent scale. You also want to be prepared for many volcanic eruption's. One that will paint the sky with blackness.

Keep in mind all of the prophecies and what we have said about you. We are here for you and will continue to be should you open your heart and continue being loyal inside of who you are. You don't have to be perfect, just full of love and thriving to become the best person that you can be with great faith that there is an unseen force that is higher and it does have the authorities that mankind has tried to step from it. With love in your heart, and unity towards your humankind, you will be a part of the new consciousness that is born, although somewhat here at first, it will not continue here but instead will take everyone elsewhere. I send to you all much love and many blessings.
